2.5 Hours, Neve Sha'anana & South Tel Aviv

This tour explores the fascinating neighborhood of Neve Sha'anana as a microcosm of Israel. In recent years, Israel has seen a significant rise in non-Jewish immigrants such as migrant workers, asylum-seekers and refugees, presenting new challenges to the Jewish State. With our own eyes we will see how diverse groups have left their impact on Israel and on the neighborhood.

Blogging about Israeli Leader (Robbie Gringras) - Zoe Herman (10)

On a small insignificant kibbutz in the Galilee a great debate rages: Should the gate that faces the local Arab village be locked shut, or should it remain open? Udi, who lost his brother in the War of Independence, fights for the gate to be closed. Yiftach, aging peacenik, must do all he can to signal openness to his Palestinian cousins. And Amal, the caterer from the Arab village, just wants someone to open the gate so she can get home after a long day.

How can we remain open? When must we close up?

Do good fences make good neighbors or distant enemies?

And what does a small story about a gate tell us about our world today?

Robbie Gringras presents his sixth charming new solo show with a lightness of touch, a thoughtfulness, and a depth of emotion that has been the hallmark of his displays of physical story theater over two decades of international performance.

Discussion his new book Who By Fire

The little-known story of Leonard Cohen's concert tour to the front lines of the Yom Kippur War, including never-before-seen selections from an unfinished manuscript by Cohen and rare photographs.

In October 1973, the poet and singer Leonard Cohen—thirty-nine years old, famous, unhappy, and at a creative dead end—traveled from his home on the Greek island of Hydra to the chaos and bloodshed of the Sinai desert when Egypt attacked Israel on the Jewish high holiday of Yom Kippur. Moving around the front with a guitar and a group of local musicians, Cohen met hundreds of young soldiers, men and women at the worst moment of their lives. Those who survived never forgot the experience. And the war transformed Cohen. He had announced that he was abandoning his music career, but he instead returned to Hydra and to his family, had a second child, and released one of the best albums of his career. In Who by Fire, journalist Matti Friedman gives us a riveting account of those weeks in the Sinai, drawing on Cohen's previously unpublished writing and original reporting to create a kaleidoscopic depiction of a harrowing, formative moment for both a young country at war and a singer at a crossroads.

Cleveland has a sister. She lives in Israel, and her name is Beit Shean, which means House of Tranquility. Located in the Galilee region up north, it's about an hour and a half drive from Tel Aviv, near the Jordanian border. Our sister city is older than Cleveland. Ancient, in fact; it is believed the city has been continually inhabited since the Early Bronze Age (3200-3000 B.C.). Cleveland and Beit Shean share many traits, as sisters often do. Neither is known primarily as a tourist destination, yet both have much to offer visitors. There are some real gems to be discovered in Beit Shean; in its surrounding nature, in its history, and within its people's Guide to Beit Shean.

Please read the attached excerpt from Who By Fire by Matti Friedman (click) and answer the following questions (in writing) and send them to Tina by June 9, 2022 12:00pm:

Before reading this excerpt, thoughtfully answer these questions:

1. Do you have a feeling of connection to Israel?
2. If yes, describe this connection – (things like family living there; were you raised with love of the country; you have been learning about it your whole life, etc.
3. If you do not have a feeling of connection, describe your reasons for traveling with us to Israel
4. Describe the picture of Israel that you have in your mind right now

After reading the excerpt, answer the following questions:

1. Is there a connection between what you read in the chapters? and what you already believed to be true?
2. In what way has the picture of Israel in your mind changed after reading the chapters?
3. What did you read that challenged you?
4. Please write one question for each chapter that you would like to ask the author?
